

Not quite our

It's not like Volkswagen to make a big noise. If you've ever driven one you'll testify to that. So why all the fuss?

Well, we've made some improvements that we thought you'd like to know about.

Let's begin at the back.

There's now a heated rear windscreen with a wash/wipe facility.

So you'll always have the clearest pictures of the places you've just been.

Passing along the side of the new Transporter, spare an admiring glance for the new wheel trims.

They're the nattiest around.

And arriving at the front, the twin rectangular headlights, moulded bumpers and front spoiler add both dash and dashing good looks.

Inside it's the same. New.

An intermittent wipe for the front windscreen, a usual style.

...padded steering wheel, dipping rear view and illuminated vanity mirror and a driver's door pocket.

And if all this sounds like cause for celebration, we've also added a cigar lighter.

Needless to say, a lot of old features still remain. Like quality, reliability, durability, performance and a good resale price.

But you wouldn't expect us to make a song and dance about all that, would you?

Please send me details of Volkswagens converted by Autohomes, Holdsworth and Auto-Sleepers.

Name

Address

MCM.7.89

Postcode

POST TO CARY DAVEY, VOLKSWAGEN MARKETING, V.A.G. (UNITED KINGDOM) LTD., FRANKLAND RD., BLAGROVE, SWINDON, SN5 8YU.

